This week at Midreshet Moriah we heard from a kiruv speaker and left for a three day tiyul up north.

Monday afternoon, Rabbi Glasser, the head of the New Jersey region for NCSY, spoke to us about how we can be involved in kiruv during our college years. It was very inspiring to know that we can make a difference for Am Yisroel at such a young age.

Tuesday morning we woke up bright and early to head to our three day tiyul in the north.

Take the Challenge

Mrs. Malka Hubscher

The Parsha begins with a command to Moshe to address the Kohanim and teach them very specific laws that pertain only to Kohanim. They are told who they can and cannot marry, physical requirements for work in the Mikdash, the laws of Teruma and which animals are unfit to be Korbanot. These commandments fit into the general theme of Sefer Vayikrah, which is korbanot and avodah in the Mikdash. Perek 23 then begins with 'parshat hamoadim' the section of the Torah that describes the celebrations of the holidays throughout the Jewish calendar year.
